

Enclosure Features

All outside pet enclosures by Home of Habitat Haven are designed to prevent escape while keeping your cat safe and healthy. Creating a perfect closed and attractive system, Home of Habitat Haven uses thick wire mesh which allows it to support itself. Only the larger enclosures will need a bit of support. Home of Habitat Haven uses 2" x 2" 10 gauge rust resistant galvanized mesh and maintenance free cedar wood for shelves and flooring. The Cat's Den and Little Doggie Digs are a long term investment that will not need any maintenance to remain a perfect place for your pet for many years.

All tunnels are designed to be attached to any part of the enclosure very easily, creating a fully enclosed cat run. The shape of the tunnels are built to withstand a great deal of pressure. Large neighbourhood dogs or coyotes will not be able to collapse the tunnels. Designed with a peak roof not only for strength but also to allow snow to run off. They are designed to accommodate plenty of room for two pets to pass each other with perfect ease.

Home of Habitat Haven enclosures were not only designed to look attractive in your yard, but also to go with you when you move. With clip removers, the enclosures can be easily dis-assembled, moved to a new location and re-assembled using new clips. Our unique system allows for any budget, as additions can be easily added on to the existing enclosure allowing it to grow with your garden and surroundings.

Our selection of Enclosure Kits were created using some of our more popular design ideas, and are pre-boxed and ready to ship. We include step by step instructions and all the hardware you need. If you require any assistance, we are only a phone call or email away.
